TRANSPORT, TELECOMMUNICATIONS and ENERGY COUNCIL
Luxembourg, 12 June 2008

Point 6. European Network and Information Security Agency (ENISA)

The Council is expected to reach a general approach on a proposal for a regulation amending regulation 460/2006 establishing the European Network and Information Security Agency (ENISA) as regards its duration.

The ENISA was established in 2004 for a limited period of time and its mandate will expire in March 2009.

The text to be agreed by ministers (10338/08) provides for a three years extension. This period will be used to enable further discussions on ENISA and allow for reflection on the general direction of the European efforts towards strengthening the network and information security.
