Dr. Javier Solana
EU High Representative for the Common Foreign and Security Policy (CFSP)
had telephone conversations with President of Montenegro Milo Djukanovic and Chairman of SNP Predrag Bulatovic

Cristina Gallach, spokesperson for Javier Solana, the EU High Representative for Common Foreign and Security Policy, indicated that the High Representative had telephone conversations today with the President of Montenegro Milo Djukanovic and with the Chairman of SNP Predrag Bulatovic. "Focus was on the implementation of the Agreement on Serbia and Montenegro signed in Belgrade on 14 March.

HR Solana recalled that a rapid implementation of the above Agreement is essential in order to promote regional stability and to make quick progress towards EU integration. In this context, he stressed the importance of a timely establishment of the Constitutional Commission which should start working on the draft of the new Constitutional Charter as soon as possible.

In view of the upcoming parliamentary sessions in Belgrade and Podgorica which are expected to deliberate on this issue, the HR also recalled that, according to the 14 March Agreement, it is up to the Constitutional Commission to address all open institutional issues before submitting its draft Charter to parliaments for adoption."
